DETAILED ACTION

1. This application has been examined. This action is in response to an amendment filed 03/25/05. An informational disclosure state (IDS) filed March 21, 2005, has been considered. Claims 1-25 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 23 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claims 1 and 23 are duplicates.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-22, and 23 (duplicate of claim 1) are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Parce et al. Parce et al disclose a single layer microfluidic fluid mixer (Figure 1) and disclose selection of respective first and second channel aspect ratios (width/depth) to promote mixing. Parce et al state : “ By reducing the depth of the intersecting channel, e.g., the second channel, relative to the first or main channel, the fluctuations in fluid flow can be substantially eliminated. In particular, in electroosmotic fluid propulsion or direction, for a given voltage gradient, the rate of flow (volume/time) generally varies as the reciprocal of the depth of the channel for channels having an aspect ratio of  $\geq 10$  (width:depth). A t-shaped intersection (90 degree intersection) is clearly shown. A 10:1 aspect ratio is disclosed above. Additional; fluid routing devices include the particular flow path characteristics shown in Figure 6D.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 148 USPQ 459, that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or unobviousness.

8. Claims 24 and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Parce et al. it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to operate mixer of Parce et al by the recited method steps.
